U.S. History

U.S. History is broken down by time periods, ranging from Three Worlds Meet (beginnings to 1620) to Contemporary United States (1968 - today). Students can explore Westward Expansion from 1790 to 1850 using an interactive map, teachers can create a document-based question for students to analyze dozens of Civil Rights documents, and classes can discuss political cartoons from every time period from the Colonial Period to Contemporary America. The Revolutionary War, the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, Reconstruction, and the Great Depression are among additions topics covered.

Topics and resources in the following areas:

- Three Worlds Meet (Beginnings to 1620)
- The Colonial Era (1585-1763)
- Revolution and the New Nation (1754-1820s)
- Expansion and Reform (1801-1861)
- Civil War and Reconstruction (1850-1877)
- The Industrial Age (1870-1900)
- Emergence of Modern America (1890-1930)
- Depression and World War II (1929-1945)
- Postwar United States (1945-1980)
- Contemporary United States 1980 - present

Find PreK-12th grade videos, lessons, interactive experiences, and printable activities: