Exclusives

Interviews

Today I, Ariel Ash, had the pleasure to get exclusives with our very own Mayor and Judge, Jack Haskell and Cameron Giannoni. Here's what they had to say.

Mayor Haskell-During the interview Mayor Haskell was very professional. He promised to enforce the law and make our community great once again. He believes in our officer Nathan Finn. Mayor Haskell is doing a great job as Mayor.

Judge Giannoni- While in City hall, I had a pleasure to talk to Judge G. He understands that many will try to sway his opinion so no money will be taken from them, but our faithful judge knows better.. Cameron Giannoni is one of our only chances at safety.

Tickets And Trust

Trust the Law. Or Not?

Officer Finn has been doing an outstanding job, or has he? Early in the day Web New manager, Cadence Young almost got fined for 10.00 dollars for “talking back”. This was later revoked as just a joke placed by the officer. If Officer Finn won’t take his job and the law seriously, who will?

Ticket Trouble

Photo journalist Sammi McGiveron, witnessed a battle brew as Lisa Mendez argued over being fined. Ryan Beerman faced the same thing, but gladly obliged to the payment.

Bad Example

Math teacher, Mr. Thompson, was fined for saying a banned word, mathspace. Since he’s a teacher and can give his student extra homework, Mayor Haskell forgave him and revoked his fine. What a good laugh!
