

The Worst

Thanksgiving Ever

by: Sarin

On Thanksgiving I was in the kitchen just as my mom was opening the oven and.....

Gobble Gobble the turkey ran away.
But mom didn't see because my mom went upstairs after she opened the oven.
So I kept an eye on the turkey.

But now it passed by mom so she asked me what it was, I said, "It was the turkey." She asked me again where the turkey now was, I said it was outside the house because the front door was open.

So mom said I could drive her car because I had my drivers license, but when I went in the garage her car was not there. "I think the turkey drove it away," I thought in my head. I told mom she thought that, too.

So I drove dad's car, and I found the turkey! "Yippee Yippee" I said. I was so happy but the turkey heard me and gobbled away. "Darn" I said, "Now what am I going to say to mom."

Or I said with a smile, I could buy a new turkey with dad's money.

So what am I waiting for! I drove to the store and bought a turkey.

But after I went home I realized this turkey was already cooked, but the turkey I tried to catch was not cooked.

I Had The Worst Thanksgiving ~~Even~~!

The End.
