City Hall Accountant gives out free Grass Passes:

Julian Hames reportedly gave out free grass passes to multiple citizens and was called out by the City Hall. Why he did it? He says he did it to be “nice” and “people wanted to walk on the grass”.

Does the nature shop really care about nature and our environment?

Do they really care? Well they say that they use face fur and feathers to create their clips and other crafts. They say that their shells are collected from the beach near the ocean. They also use wind energy that is better for the environment. But they use plastic that is horrible for the environment. There is already too much plastic in our oceans and you would think that the Nature Center would consider how plastic can hurt nature. Do they really care? This is for you to decide.
